A screenshot of a Gmail search filter interface. The interface is a white box with a light gray border. At the top left, there is a 'Search' label and a dropdown menu showing 'Starred'. Below this, there are several input fields: 'From' with 'Tim Berners Lee', 'To' with 'me', 'Subject' with 'Move the web forward', 'Has the words' with 'innovate', and 'Doesn't have' with 'security, privacy'. There are also two checkboxes: 'Has attachment' and 'Don't include chats', both of which are checked. Below these, there is a 'Size' section with a dropdown showing 'less than', a text input with '300', and a unit dropdown showing 'KB'. At the bottom, there is a 'Date within' section with a dropdown showing '3 days', the word 'of', and a date input with '2017/06/07'. At the bottom left, there is a blue button with a magnifying glass icon. At the bottom right, there is a link that says 'Create filter with this search »'.
